FOR THE BOOK LOVERS-

BOOK REVIEW: "THE BLACK ROSE" by Thomas Costain. This is the adventurous story of Walter of Gurnie, and of Mariam, the Black Rose of the Orient---so called because of her likeness to the all-precious spice of year 1200----Cloves. Mariam, of the black hair and bright blue eyes, seemed such a misfit amongst her dark-skinned, dark-eyed overly-stout half-sisters. Sold into a harem, Mariam escapes with the help of the simple country boy who listedned to Roger Bacon tell his tales of the far east, and responded by living the life that many men of the days of the Crusades merely dreamed about. With his faithful friend of his Oxford school days, Tristam, Walter fought his way into the heart of the fabulous Mongol empire of the days of Kubla Kahn and Bayon, of the Hundred Eyes. He left his "heart" behind him, or so he thought, when he said goodbye to Engaine, who had become betrothed to Walter's half brother, the future Earl of Lessford. Engaine was our present-day counterpart of the scheming gold-digger who marries for wealth and position, only to find that the man she spurned became far more wealthy and famous in the five short years of his absence than her cruel husband could ever be.

Walter marries the pixie Mariam to save her from punishment after her escape from the harem slave-train (camels, in those days!), and finds his real love with her. Their happiness is short-lived, however, and a three-year separation is endured before the ill-starred lovers find each other again. And this result is attained only after Mariam travels halfway around the world calling "Walter, London!" at each port she reaches. These are the only two words of English she knows.

This exciting tale of life as lived in the days of the Mongols, both in the open on the deserts, and in the luxurious palaces of the east, must be read twice, or even three times before the whole beauty of the story can unfold. The first time I read it, I read it for the plot. The second time for the history---and the third time for the vivid description. A "must" on the adventure-lovers list!

Incidentally, I see that "Black Rose" is now being edited in the pocket sized books, and is at last available to everyone. In case you are interested, a movie is being made of this exciting story. If the movie is half as good as the book, I shall see it three times, too!

THE MYSTERY CHILD:

I spied a child with golden hair,
and pretty eyes of blue;
Upon her brow was placed a star,
that shown with wondrous hue.

It seemed to brightly glitter with a hint of mystery--
I thought it's beauty all had seen,
But it had shown for me!

WHY DO I LOVE YOU????

Why do I love you? I love you not only for what you are---
But for what I am when I am with you.
I love you, not only for what you have made of yourself, but for what you are making of me.
I love you for ignoring the possibilities of the fool in me, and for laying firm hold of the possibilities of the good in me.
Why do I love you? I love you for closing your eyes to the discords in me, and for adding to the music in me by worshipful listening.
I love you because you are helping me to make of the lumber of my life, not a tavern, but a temple;
And of the words of my every day--not a reproach, but a song.
I love you because you have done more than any creed to make me happy, you have done it without a word--without a touch, without a sign.
You have done it--by just being yourself.
Perhaps, after all--that is what love means!

---by MARY CAROLYN DAVIES.

Speaking of Cliff Gannon--he says that in response to our plea for boxing equipment, he has been given several pairs of boxing gloves for the young fry to use in their training for "flea-weight" boxing matches. Several boys have already signed up, but more are needed. Remember, if you weigh between 65 and 145 pounds, and if you have your parents consent--you may join the proposed athletic club, by just getting in touch with Cliff Gannon, or Fred Chapman.

The "Pledges" going around town to be signed by teen-agers between the ages of 15 and 21 are for the purpose of getting weekly teen-age dances here in Brisbane. It is our purpose to petition for the use of the Legion hall on the alternate Friday evenings when the Recreation Hall teen-age dances aren't being held. When the Pledges have been returned to me, properly signed by the interested teen-agers, they will be sent, with a letter from me explaining the purpose, to the American Legion Post #473, to be read at the next regularly scheduled meeting, thereupon to be voted on by the assembled Legionaires. Now it is up to the teen-agers to form their Club and get things in readiness in case the petition receives a favorable vote.

REPORT FROM THE RED CROSS:

Many inquiries regarding servicemen and civilians in the Korean War Theater are being received by Home Service Department of the San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross, according to J. Ed McClellan, Home Service chairman. "Our Department" McClellan states, "will be glad to help anyone wishing to place an inquiry regarding armed forces personnel in Japan and Korea, American civilians being evacuated from the war area. We have received information from American National Red Cross as to where and how various types of inquiries should be placed. This information will be given on request. Persons wishing to receive it should contanct Home Service at the local Chapter House by calling Diamond 3-4561."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

The Brisbane A.C.'S are now the champions of the South Peninsula League, after a very well-earned victory over Church of Nativity at Neelon Field in Menlo Park on Sun. July 9th. The game was a thriller with the lead changing hands three times. Pitcher Don Delbon pitched a good game, although not settling down until the 4th inning. He gave up only 6 scattered hits while issuing 5 walks, and got 7 strike-outs. Don had a little trouble at first, but came through in championship style to the delight of all.

Brisbane started things off with 4 runs in the 1st inning on 3 hits--one a beautiful triple by Bob Butcher. Mansel Roland also came through with a hard hit triple, and had a perfect day at bat--getting 3 for 3. Don Delbon with 2 for 3 and Bob Butcher with 2 for 4 made up the rest of the hitting. The boys played heads-up baseball, and deserved what they got, the championship! The Brisbane club is to be congratulated on the fine sportsmanship, and were commented upon throughout the league games. They will now receive a trophy donated by the Menlo Park and Stanford Sport Shops. They will also receive individual medals donated by myself for their fine play throughout. Many thanks to all our loyal supporters who came out to give us the moral support we needed, and many thanks also to the BRISBANE BYLINE for all the swell publicity.--EDDIE DAVENPORT, MGR. A.C.'S
